DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 1, 3 and 8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Kazlauskas (USPN 4408112). Kazlauskas teaches a weld joint comprising contact portions including an incline and step joined to a strip wherein weld beads cover at least part of the inclined portion (figures 1-3, 6 and 8, col 2 line 38 – col 3 line 15); where the contact, inclined and stepped portions are capable of being formed by a bend in the end portion (figures 1-3, 6, and 8).
3. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Cercone et al. (US 20030180570 A1). Cercone teaches a weld joint comprising contact portions including an incline and step joined to a strip wherein weld beads cover at least part of the inclined portion (figures 4, 7, 8 and 13 and paragraphs 31 and 37); where the contact, inclined and stepped portions are capable of being formed by a bend in the end portion (figures 4,7,8, and 13).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 4, 5, 9 and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kazlauskas (USPN 4408112). Kazlauskas teaches a weld joint comprising contact portions including an incline and step joined to a strip wherein weld beads cover at least part of the inclined portion (figures 1-3, 6 and 8, col 2 line 38 – col 3 line 15) where the contact, inclined and stepped portions are capable of being formed by a bend in the end portion (figures 1-3, 6, and 8). As shown in figure 8, the contact length and step interval is set at about 50% of the sheet thickness.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claim 13 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

Applicant argues that neither Kazlauskas or Cercone teach the the newly added claim limitation of "inclined portion formed by a bend in said end portion." The examiner agrees. Applicant goes on to argue that the prior art does not meet the claimed limitation. The examiner disagrees. Even though product-by-process claims are limited by and defined by the process, determination of patentability is based on the product itself. The patentability of a product does not depend on its method of production. If the product in the product-by-process claim is the same as or an obvious from a product of the prior art, the claim is unpatentable even though the prior product was made by a different process. In re Thorpe, 227 USPQ 964, 966 (Fed. Cir. 1985). In the instant case, it is the examiner's position that the prior art structure can be formed by a bending operation, even if the prior art does not explicitly state how or offers a different method of forming the bent shape. The burden has been shifted to the applicant to show a difference between the claimed product and the prior art product. In re Marosi, 218 USPQ 289, 292 (Fed. Cir. 1983).

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.

Art Unit: 1725
